

A field of flowers, including two prominent red poppies and many purple flowers, set against a blue sky. The flowers are in various stages of bloom, with many green buds visible. The scene is captured in a soft, natural light, possibly during the golden hour.

The pail said to the woman, "I must apologize for not doing my job well anymore. Half of my water has leaked out by the time you get me home each day. I think it's time to replace me."

"Do you know why this side of the path has so many flowers while the other one doesn't?" the woman asked the leaking pail. "This is the side I carry you on. Your leak made those flowers possible. Thank you."
